Played with great pace and assurance this was a smooth and polished performance. CARYS RICHARDS as SARAH BROWN gave the right amount of naivety in falling for the smooth talking SKY MASTERSON well played by young MATHEW BATTE. Their singing both individually and together was particularly pleasing. MISS ADELAIDE was played with great style by BRIDGET-MARY GOODSTONE and with the reluctant lover NATHAN DETROIT ably played by SEAN TAPP they brought out all the Runyan brand of humour. SIT DOWN YOUR'E ROCKING THE BOAT was a real show stopper sung by ANDREW FLETCHER as NICELY NICELY JOHNSON. This well presented show was full of good cameo performances, singing and dancing, ably supported by an excellent orchestra.
